WEATHER FOR THE WEEK.

Weston, Sept. 29.—The coming week will be one of cool and generally fair weather over the greater part of the country east of the Rocky Mountains, and during the first part of the week there will be a light rain in the Rocky Mountain region, the Plains States, the Upper Mississippi and Ohio Valley, the Lake region and the North Atlantic States.

The next general disturbance to cross the country will appear in the far West Monday or Tuesday, cross the great central valleys about Wednesday or Thursday and the Eastern States Friday or Saturday. This disturbance will be preceded by a general rise in temperature and be attended by well distributed rains.

Chairman Camden, of the State Campaign Committee, addressed the Democratic editors of Kentucky at a luncheon at the Country Club, near Louisville, Saturday afternoon. The editors afterwards formed themselves into the Democratic Editorial Association of Kentucky and pledged themselves to do everything possible to forward the work of the campaign. ## Dan Blake.

Dan Blake, who is to coach the High School team this year, is a former captain of the Vanderbilt football team. He is one of the noted Blake boys of Nashville, each of whom was captain of the champion team of the South. The brothers, Dan, Bob and Vaughan, each in turn headed a winning team. Bob won a Rhodes scholarship, was educated in England and is now a Nashville lawyer. He was the best all-around athlete ever turned out by Vanderbilt. Dan, who graduated about eight years ago, sustained the reputation of the family and the team he headed was one of the best the University has ever had. Dan Blake is now local manager of the electric light and gas plants of the Kentucky Public Service Co. and a citizen of Hopkinsville. The High School boys are fortunate indeed in being able to secure his services as coach.

"MUTT and JEFF."

Everybody who reads a newspaper has seen the funny "Mutt and Jeff" pictures and to see them is to laugh. They would make the Egyptian Sphinx laugh. No mere play in the past decade has left such a trail of merriment as has this clever musical comedy conceit by the New York American's clever cartoonist, Bud Fisher. Capacity audiences have greeted their appearance in every town and city fortunate enough to secure a date. Gus Hill's gorgeous production of this play will be seen at Holland's Opera House shortly.

Will Never Die.

The physicians are saying now that they can produce life chemically and a noted scientist says that the world will be crazy in 500 years. Between the two the world will be a great place to live in a few thousand years from now—when men will not die but all will be crazy. We'll take "the old-fashioned kind" in ours.

TOBACCO MEN

Urged To Hear J. Campbell
Cantrill Wednesday and Thursday.

Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill will make two speeches in the county this week.

Wednesday at Pembroke.
Thursday at Hopkinsville.
Speaking will begin at both places at 1 o'clock p. m.

The time for signing up is drawing to a close and no one intending to pledge his tobacco should defer signing the pledge any longer. It is either reorganization or dissolution. Mr. Cantrill can convince the most skeptical that it is of vital interest to every tobacco grower to join the association if he wants to get anything like a reasonable price for tobacco. The county officers urge every tobacco grower to hear Mr. Cantrill on the above two dates.

MAN WINKED

Just As Everybody Had Concluded He Was An Automaton.

Manager W. S. Harned, and Col. W. A. Wilgus of the Planters Hardware Co. have another surprise in store for the public advertising Durham Duplex Razors. About two years ago Mr. Harned had a demonstrator in his show window, shaving an automaton, seemingly by mechanism. So wonderful he set the part that the man was mistaken for an automaton himself until late in the day when a young lady "tried him out" by winking and the man winked back.

It is not known what the particular stunt is to be this time, but a lady will be the demonstrator this year and she will be in the window next Wednesday and Thursday. Lookout for her.

A PRETTY COMPLIMENT.

The Countess Szechenyi paid a pretty compliment on a recent visit to New York.

The girl, a charming blonde, was summoned to the countess's apartment, and, at the end of her work, she blushed and modestly said: "Might I ask you, madame, for your autograph?"

The countess chose a sheet of created note paper, scribbled a line on it, and said:

"Here is an autograph and a testimonial as well."

The manicure girl took the sheet of tinted paper and read, above the countess's signature, the words:

"There's a divinity that shapes our ends."
